PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

“We must adjust to changing times and still hold to unchanging principles.”
-President Jimmy Carter

The year 2020 has been a year like no other. It has not been easy. Our world, our country, and especially our families have experienced great losses as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic and civil unrest...the loss of loved ones, jobs, and possibly even faith in mankind. We understand and feel your pain, and stand ready to help support you and our community during these difficult times. Our primary concern, like yours, is the safety, health, and well-being of all.

For this reason, the Center for Humanistic Change has continued our alcohol, tobacco, and other drug prevention education and life skills programs to address the most urgent needs of individuals and families. We have adapted our delivery styles to provide virtual education as well as in person programming when circumstances allow. As schools have re-opened, we adapted to every type of school scenario so that no student, educator, support staff, or family is left behind.

We have intensified our outreach in the community and are collaborating with others, such as communities of faith, to spread the word about prevention. In addition, we offer age-appropriate life skills instruction designed to foster resiliency, reduce anxiety, and manage stress. We are able to do this thanks to the forward-thinking commitment and unfailing support of our donors and funders, who recognize the value of our services and who want to ensure that Lehigh Valley residents remain healthy emotionally, as well as physically.

In these critical times, it is essential that we be humane in helping others to believe in themselves and their potential, encourage compassion and understanding, and foster self-respect and respect for others. We hold true to our principles of improving the quality of life so others can pursue knowledge, grow, love and find meaning for one's existence.

Lara Ruesch, President, Board of Directors

2020-2021 NEW PROGRAM OFFERINGS

Elementary and Middle School

Teaching Students to be Peacemakers: Enhances the life skills of conflict resolution and peer mediation.

Middle and High School

SOS Signs of Suicide Prevention Program: Depression awareness and suicide prevention program raises awareness of depression and suicide, helps students identify warning signs of depression in themselves and others, identifies risk factors associated with depression and suicidal ideation, and uses a brief screening for depression and/or suicidal behavior (Post Covid-19).

High School

The Blues Program: A school-based prevention program for adolescents with depressive symptoms or at risk of onset of major depression.

Project Towards No Drug Abuse: A drug use prevention program designed to help students develop self-control and communication skills, acquire resources that help them resist drug use, improve decision making strategies, and develop the motivation to not use drugs.

Small Groups

I Can Problem Solve: Address life skills that focus on problem solving and decision-making. The program teaches students how to think, not what to think.

Families

Strong African American Families (SAAF): A culturally sensitive curriculum for African-American families, focused on youth ages 10-14. Prevents substance use and behavior problems among youth by strengthening positive family interactions, preparing youths for their teen years, and enhancing primary caregivers' efforts to help youths reach positive goals (Post COVID-19).

PROGRAM IMPACT Making A Difference....One Student At a Time

Prevention Programming Makes a Difference We know because we measure changes in knowledge and attitude through pre and post surveys. Much of our programming is now evidence-based, meaning it has been tested and proven to make a difference in the lives of those served. However, it is through our face-to-face time with students and adults that we learn about the fuller impact we make on their lives.

Kasey, a 9-year-old third grader, was referred to Crossroads Mentoring Program after her teacher noticed that she was continuously sad and withdrawn. After many group sessions and no participation, Kasey asked the mentor if she could talk to the mentor outside of the group about situations happening at home. Kasey disclosed that her sixteen-year-old brother was a drug addict. She said that her parents told her brother he could no longer live at home since he was involved with drugs. Kasey is extremely worried about her brother being homeless and about the constant fighting over her brother's drug use. Children and Youth had also been involved with the family and even went to her school to question her about her brother's drug use and parents. The mentor provided Kasey with reading material on dealing with a loved one's addiction and a phone number for her brother to call for help. The mentor asked Kasey to share some of her hardships with the group. Over many sessions, other students began to speak of similar situations going on at home. Kasey eventually became less depressed and distraught. She developed an incredible bond with another student. Kasey's teacher reported that she had become more engaged in class and seemingly less withdrawn. Her teacher also reported that Kasey looked forward to going to her group sessions and appreciates having someone who supports her and listens to her.

Jane and her clique of friends cut classes and were involved in drama with other students. They were not doing well in their classes. Jane and the other members of the group were referred to Project SUCCESS Mentoring Program by the guidance counselor. The CHC Project SUCCESS Mentor started having groups with Jane and her friends. At the beginning, they would feed off of each other in a negative way. The CHC mentor focused on self-esteem and conflict resolution skills in these group sessions. Jane and her friends began to actively participate in the groups and looked forward to them each week. They were open with their mentor about what was going on in their lives. About two weeks before schools closed for the pandemic, Jane was able to break away from her clique of friends and become her own person. There was no drama that followed it, which says a lot for this group of girls. Usually, when someone leaves the group, there is fighting and gossiping. Jane was able to separate herself without engaging in any of this with them. She began attending all of her classes and doing her work. This is a big accomplishment that takes courage for an adolescent her age.

INNOVATIVE BUSINESS-EDUCATION PARTNERSHIPS CHC Partners with Lehigh Carbon Community College (LCCC) to Provide Opioid Education

The college was one of 13 higher education institutions to receive part of a nearly $1 million grant from Department of Alcohol Programs to prevent the use of opioids by students, as well as to train security staff on how to administer naloxone. The college partnered with CHC for about one-quarter of LCCC's $81,000 grant to provide 18 Heroin & Opioid Prevention Education (HOPE) presentations and a one-day educational forum. As Covid-19 quarantine closed campuses, the project received an extension through September 2021. Three live presentations had been completed January through March, two for instructors and other campus staff and one for members of the men's basketball team. Since then, CHC has provided four Zoom presentations, three of which were specifically for more than 180 nursing students. We also created an online HOPE course consisting of five-10 minute segments that was made available to instructors of relevant courses. Future plans include three HOPE/Narcan Trainings for campus security staff. CHC is planning an online forum January 29, 2021. College communities often do not receive critical drug and alcohol prevention education and to develop relationships with institutions. This partnership door to providing prevention Watch our website for details

CHC facilitates interactive experience-based trainings and small groups that engage participants in meaningful learning. Many of our programs have been designed in response to the specific needs of schools and communities in the Lehigh Valley. We also offer many evidence-based programs that have been approved by the National Registry of Evidence-Based Programs and Practices (NREPP).

PROGRAM IMPACT

Making A Difference....Measuring Results

Student Assistance Program: CHC served 93 of the 96 schools in Lehigh County and 55 of the 55 schools in Northampton County with liaison services, technical assistance, material dissemination, newsletters, other communications, team maintenance, and evaluation services through the Student Assistance Program (SAP). Our Commonwealth Approved Training Program certified 112 new SAP professionals.

Crossroads/Project SUCCESS Mentoring Program: The staff of our Crossroads/ Project SUCCESS program mentored 1,053 students in 31 schools throughout the Lehigh Valley. Some of the 2019-2020 results that showed maintained/improved are: 79.35% sought help from adults; 74.31% handled stress from school/home; 79.09% spoke calmly during a disagreement; 81.86% understood another's point of view; 85.64% resisted/said "NO" to peer pressure; 79.60% communicated with peers. All these results showed improvement against the previous year results. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, data on grades, attendance and disciplinary incidents was limited due to the impact of school closures and not included in this report.

Other Programs: CHC conducts pre and post surveys to determine the impact of prevention education. Program results are analyzed to determine if there is a significant difference in knowledge score and attitude shifts between the pre and post surveys; meaning their attitudes improved and the knowledge increased. These results are part of a fuller evaluation that considers factors such as the level of pre-survey knowledge and attitudes, and the regularity and consistency of prevention education among the population. Following is a sampling of 2019-2020 results:

Knowledge:

- ◆ Second Step, an evidence-based multi-session program for elementary school students, had a total knowledge increase of 8%.
- ◆ Choices, Chances, Changes, a single-session informational program, had a total knowledge increase of 37%.
- ◆ HOPE for High School Students, another single-session program, had a total knowledge increase of 32%.
- ◆ Anger Management, a multi-session program for adults, had a total knowledge increase of 17%.
- ◆ Conflict Resolution, a multi-session program offered primarily to our incarcerated populations, had a total knowledge increase of 17%.

Attitude:

- ◆ Life Skills programs, specially tailored for school-age small groups, had a total attitude score increase of 7%.
- ◆ Choices, Chances, Changes, a single-session informational program, had a total attitude score increase of 8%.
- ◆ HOPE for High School Students, another single-session program, had a total attitude score increase of 11%.
- ◆ Anger Management, a multi-session program for adults on probation, had a total attitude score increase of 8%.
- ◆ Relapse Prevention, another multi-session program offered primarily to our incarcerated populations, had a total attitude score increase of 8%.

A sampling of knowledge gains:

- ◆ 37%>: Choices, Chances, Changes (8th Grade)
- ◆ 32%>: HOPE (9th to 12th Grade)
- ◆ 17%>: Conflict Resolution (Incarcerate Populations)
- ◆ 17%>: Anger Management (Probation)
- ◆ 8%>: Second Step (4th & 5th Grades)

A sampling of attitude gains:

- ◆ 11%>: HOPE (9th to 12th Grade)
- ◆ 8%>: Choices, Chances, Changes (8th Grade)
- ◆ 8%>: Relapse Prevention (Incarcerate Populations)
- ◆ 8%>: Anger Management (Probation)
- ◆ 7%>: Non-Evidence Based Life Skills
