“Equity in Pennsylvania Schools-Part 2”

This session will provide SAP team members with content regarding the importance of ensuring quality supports for ALL students are equitable. With this in mind, mental health and drug and alcohol supports, as well as trauma informed practices, are best provided through an equitable lens.

She currently serves as the co-statewide lead for the Behavior initiative, as well as an active member of the Multi-Tiered Systems of Support (MTSS) initiative. In addition, she is the statewide lead for equitable practices in partnership with the office of safe schools for the Pennsylvania Department of Education. Dr. Hollins-Sims is also involved in the State Systemic Improvement Plan (SSIP) with a focus on increasing the graduation rate of students with disabilities. Finally, Dr. Hollins-Sims is a Pennsylvania certified school psychologist with a specific interest in social justice.
