Community OUTREACH

LIP BALM ON EYE LIDS?

Teens are putting Burt's Bees lip balm on their eyelids, and no, you shouldn't try this at home. People believe rubbing Burt's Bees lip balm on their eyelids before a night out will give them a euphoric, tingling sensation. However, experts say otherwise.

TikToker trend called "Beezin'"

Beezin' is a fad where people apply Burt's Bees lip balm to their eyelids. The menthol or peppermint flavors are supposed to cause a sensation of enhanced alertness.

Placing menthol or peppermint on the eyelids can cause a burning sensation, inflammation, swelling and even pink eye. Optometry Times states that beezin' can cause contact dermatitis, saying a "nice buzz" can turn into a "full-blown inflammatory response requiring treatment."
